Special features and options

In the course "Background Painting for Advanced Students" we begin with a theoretical introduction. We look at the core topics of naturalistic landscape painting in general. We highlight the essential differences from background painting and talk about image composition, color intensity, tonal values, lighting, depth effect, and color theory. We begin by mixing the colors for the sky and work step by step on a background image as required. Painting people and animals onto the background image is part of this course if desired. All styles are possible. As a rule, we work with powder colors. However, it is also possible to paint with acrylic colors. Enjoy background painting! Peter Riml
